

Experience

Jennifer Szabo Designs

June 2006 - Present

I created my own company in 2006 in order to pursue my goals of becoming a self-employed website designer. Not only have I grown as a web designer but I have learned invaluable lessons about project management and customer/designer relations.

Racecarbook.com

December 2003 - Present

This website was created to promote and sell books about drag racing. In addition to maintaining the website, I have had the opportunity to design ads, brochures, and graphics featured in each book.

New Eras Media

August 2005 - August 2006

I worked with New Eras Media as a freelance web designer on several projects including development of a search engine where I learned a great deal about keywords and search engine optimization.

Snowolf Digital

December 2004 - January 2006

I worked with this company on a freelance basis to develop websites as well as CD-ROMS. I was able to be involved in all aspects of the project from initial design to content development including audio and video to final testing and debugging.

CSU Sacramento - Computer lab assistant

January 2003 - December 2003

As a student, I was given the opportunity to work in an on-campus computer lab assisting students and maintaining the network in both a Mac and Windows environment.

Skills

- HTML (5), CSS (3), JavaScript, PHP
- XML, dynamic generation of content based on XML/RSS feeds
- Basic skills with SQL, MySQL databases
- Photoshop, Illustrator
- WordPress: creating templates from scratch, creating/modifying plugins, hooks
- Video editing in Adobe Premiere, After Effects
- Accessibility, SEO

Education

- BA Communication Studies with an emphasis in Digital Media - cum laude December 2003
California State University Sacramento, Sacramento, CA
- Certificate Programming for the Web December 2003
California State University Sacramento, Sacramento, CA